

	CORPORATE POLICIES INSIDER TRADING POLICY	EFFECTIVITY DATE May 31, 2017
		AMENDMENT Ver. 1, Rev. 0

All directors, officers, and employees of Pacific Online Systems Corporation (the “Company” or “LOTO”) are mandated to strictly observe and maintain the confidentiality of all material non-public information that they may acquire or learn by reason of their position. Thus, said directors, officers, and employees are prohibited (i) from trading (buying and selling) the Company’s securities based on this inside information or (ii) from tipping or passing such inside information to someone who may use such information to trade the securities of the Company, during prescribed trading blackout periods.

PURPOSE

The purpose of the Insider Trading Policy is to apprise and ensure compliance by all members of the Board of Directors, officers, and employees of the Company of their obligations under the applicable securities laws and regulations of the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) as well as the Philippine Stock Exchange’s (PSE) Black-Out Rule.

Aside from complying with the law against insider trading as part of SEC and PSE regulations, the Company adopted this policy in keeping with the trend on sound corporate governance practices and supporting the integrity of capital market based on the principle of “equal opportunity based on equal access to information”.

DEFINITION OF TERMS

“Black-Out Period” is a period during which directors, officers, and other covered individuals are prohibited from dealing, which includes purchasing, selling or otherwise acquiring or transferring the securities of a listed entity, before and after the material non-public information has been released to the public.

“Material Non-Public Information” refers to information which has not been generally disclosed to the public and (i) would likely affect the market price of a listed security after being disseminated to the public and the lapse of a reasonable time for the market to absorb the information, or (ii) would be considered by a reasonable person important under the circumstances in determining his course of action whether to buy, sell or hold a listed security.

An information is “material” if it relates to the business and affairs of a listed company that results in, or would reasonably be expected to result in, a significant change in the market price or value of said listed company’s securities; or that would be reasonably expected to have a significant influence on a reasonable investor’s investment decisions.

“Securities” shall refer to common and preferred shares, if any as well as debt securities like bonds and notes. These may also include securities that are convertible or exchangeable into shares of the company and derivative instruments, agreements or securities (whether or not issued by the company), the market price, value or payment materially referenced to or materially based on a security of the company obligations of which are materially derived from.

“Tipping” refers to divulging or supplying any material non-public information to anyone who might have the intention to use the same in trading a listed company’s shares to their personal advantage.

PROHIBITION AGAINST INSIDER TRADING

All directors, officers, and employees of the Company are prohibited from trading or dealing LOTO shares while in possession of Material Non-Public Information, and from passing such information to any person who might use such information to trade LOTO shares for personal financial gain.

Everyone should exercise prudence in evaluating whether the non-public information he possesses is material or not. Any doubt should be resolved in favor of treating such non-public information as material.

The prohibition covers from the time of the acquisition of such material non-public information and until two (2) full trading days after such information has been made public.

In order to prevent Company insiders from taking unfair advantage over the Material Non-Public Information, directors, officers, and employees are, restricted from trading LOTO shares on the following prescribed periods:

- a) At least five (5) trading days before, and two (2) full trading days after, the submission of Annual Report (SEC 17-A) and Quarterly Report (SEC 17-Q).
- b) At least two (2) full trading days from the time a material non-public information is obtained up to two (2) full trading days after dissemination of the information to the general public other than item (a) above.

The Compliance Officer may declare a special trading blackout from time to time as he may deem proper.

The persons covered by this Insider Trading Policy are as follows:

- all members of the Board of Directors;
- all key officers of the Company who are or may be in possession of Material Non-Public Information about the Company on account of their respective positions.

For purposes of this Insider Trading Policy, the “key officers” of the Company shall include all members of the Management Team wherever they are assigned or seconded to the Company’s subsidiaries, including, but not limited to:

- consultants and advisers of the Company;
- all confidential secretaries;
- all other employees who are made aware of undisclosed material information from time to time until such information has been publicly disclosed; and,
- members of the immediate families of key officers and covered persons mentioned above.

REPORTORIAL REQUIREMENTS

The directors and principal executive officers of the Company, like all other listed companies, are required under the Securities Regulation Code and the implementing rules and regulations issued by the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) and the Philippine Stock Exchange (PSE) to report their direct and indirect beneficial ownership of LOTO securities as well as any change in such beneficial ownership.
